INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors of Blount County Habitat for Humanity, Inc.
Maryville, Tennessee

Report on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Blount County Habitat for Humanity (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the statements of financial position as of June 30, 2019 and 2018, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal controls relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Blount County Habitat for Humanity as of June 30, 2019 and 2018, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to the Financial Statements
For the Years Ended June 30, 2019 and 2018

NOTE 1 – SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization - Blount County Habitat for Humanity, Inc. (“Habitat”) is a nonprofit organization chartered by the State of Tennessee. Habitat is an affiliate of Habitat for Humanity International, Inc. (“Habitat International”), a non-denominational Christian nonprofit organization whose purpose is to create safe, affordable housing for those in need, and to make decent shelter a matter of conscience with people everywhere. Although Habitat for Humanity International assists with information resources, training, publications, prayer support, and in other ways, Habitat is primarily and directly responsible for its own operations. The purpose of the organization is to build and repair simple, safe, affordable homes for low-income families living within Blount County. To facilitate this purpose, the organization constructs houses using a significant amount of volunteer labor and some donated materials. The houses are then sold at no profit and financed by an approved third party lender that provides an affordable loan to qualified buyers.

In addition to constructing homes, Habitat operates the Habitat ReStore. The ReStore sells items donated by individuals and businesses at affordable prices to the public. All proceeds from the ReStore help fund the building of Habitat homes.

Basis of accounting – The financial statements of Habitat have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and accordingly reflect all significant receivables, payables, and other liabilities. Revenues are recognized when earned, and expenses are recorded when the resulting liability is incurred.

Financial Statement Presentation

The financial statements of Habitat have been prepared on the accrual basis in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The statements are presented in accordance with the provisions of Statement of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) ASU 2016-14, Financial Statements of Not-for-Profit Entities. Under ASU 2016-14, Habitat is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: net assets without donor restrictions and net assets with donor restrictions, with the goal of improving not-for-profit entity (NFP) financial statements to provide more useful information to donors, grantors, and other financial statement users. The ASU requires additional disclosures for expenses by nature and function and for the liquidity and availability of resources.

Use of estimates – The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions. This will affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash and cash equivalents – For purposes of the statements of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents are considered to be all unrestricted highly liquid investments with original maturities of three (3) months or less at the time of acquisition. At June 30, 2019 and 2018, there were no cash equivalents.

Property and equipment – Habitat capitalizes all expenditures for property and equipment in excess of $1,000. Property and equipment are recorded at cost, or if donated, at their estimated fair value at date of gift. Such donations are reported as unrestricted support unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as restricted support. Unless the donor has stipulated how long donated assets must be maintained, Habitat reports the expiration of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service; at that time, the assets are transferred from restricted net assets to unrestricted net assets. Property and equipment are depreciated over the estimated useful lives of the assets (3 to 39 years) using the straight-line method.

Depreciation for the years ended June 30, 2019 and 2018 was $78,625 and $79,006, respectively.

Contributions – Contributions received are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted support depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. Restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets upon satisfaction of the time or purpose restrictions. However, if a restriction is fulfilled in the same time period in which the contribution is received, Habitat reports the support as unrestricted.

Unconditional promises to give, including pledges recorded at estimated net realizable value, are recognized as revenues or gains in the period received as assets, decreases in liabilities, or expenses depending on the form of the benefits received. Conditional promises to give are recognized when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met.

Donated materials and services – Habitat receives donated materials and supplies and a significant amount of volunteer time from various individuals and organizations primarily in the fulfillment of its construction program activities. Donated materials and supplies are reflected as contributions at their fair market value at the date of donation. Contributed services meeting the criteria of recognition are reflected in the financial statements at the fair value of the services received.

Transfers to homeowners – The sales price of the houses constructed by Habitat are derived by a fair market value appraisal. The first mortgage is determined by an ability to repay calculation and according to Habitat lending policy.

Functional allocation of expenses - The costs of providing the various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities. Costs are allocated between fund raising, management and general or the appropriate program based on evaluations of the related benefits. Management and general expenses include those expenses that are not directly identifiable with any other specific function but provide for the overall support and direction of Habitat.

Advertising – Advertising costs are expensed as incurred.

Income tax status - Habitat is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Under this section, the Organization is exempt from income taxes on its non-business related income. Business income, such as rental income received by the Organization that is unrelated to program activities, net of related expenses, may be subject to Federal income taxes. The Organization's Forms 990 Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax for the years ended June 30, 2015, 2016, and 2017 are subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service, generally for three years after they were filed.

NOTE 2 – COMPARATIVE TOTAL DATA

Comparative total data for the prior year has been presented in the accompanying financial statements in order to provide an understanding of changes in Habitat's financial position and operations. Certain comparative data for the prior year was reclassified to be comparable with June 30, 2019 accounts in the financial statements.

NOTE 3 – LIQUIDITY

Habitat has $1,031,748 of financial assets, available within one year of the balance sheet date to meet cash needs for general expenditures, consisting of Cash of $296,051, Receivables of $271,269, Inventory of $15,544 and Construction in Progress of $448,884. None of the financial assets are subject to donor or other contractual restrictions that make them unavailable for general expenditure within one year of the balance sheet date. The receivables are expected to be collected within one year. The Construction in Progress are current homes under construction expected to be sold within one year. Habitat structures its financial assets to be available as its general expenditures, liabilities, and other obligations come due.

NOTE 4 – MORTGAGE RECEIVABLES

Habitat historically constructed homes and originated repayable, non-interest bearing first mortgages for qualifying families. Such mortgages are secured by the underlying real estate and are serviced by a third party servicer. These non-interest bearing notes have been discounted using a rate that is established by Habitat International each June 30. Discounts are amortized using the straight-line method over the life of the loan. In 2015, Habitat discontinued originating first mortgages. First mortgages are now originated by an approved lender and include interest.

Additional funding to cover the construction costs invested by Habitat may also include grants (e.g. HOME) and are structured as forgivable mortgages; each grant has its own terms, typically 5-15 years.

The final mortgage is a "silent" mortgage which represents the equity remaining after subtracting the first mortgage and any other notes or grant funding from the appraised value of the home. The Habitat subordinate mortgages begin to forgive on the 6th anniversary and reduce at a minimum of $1,000 annually thereafter. This yields a typical term of 10-15 years. These silent, forgivable subordinates will be required to be repaid if the title transfers before they are forgiven or if the terms of the trust deed are broken. The first mortgage includes a monthly payment amount, the silent mortgage does not.

Management believes that all mortgage receivables are fully collectible and adequately collateralized; accordingly, no allowance for doubtful accounts has been established. The value of collateral has historically been more than adequate to cover any losses.

The carrying value of the non-interest-bearing mortgage loan receivables are shown net of the total unamortized discount as follows:

	2019	2018
Mortgage Loan Receivable	$ 2,338,402	$ 2,584,858

NOTE 6 – CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY

- Land Held for Development is land that needs to be further subdivided or improved before construction can begin on it.
- Improved Lots are lots that are ready for construction to begin.
- Construction in Progress are lots with houses that have begun construction and will likely be sold within one year.

Balances for construction accounts are as follows:

NOTE 11 – CASH IN EXCESS OF FDIC INSURED LIMITS

Habitat maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts which, at times, may exceed federally insured limits. Accounts are guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to $250,000. Habitat has not experienced any losses in such accounts.

NOTE 12 – COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Through an agreement with THDA, Habitat guarantees first mortgages for some of its homebuyers. At June 30, 2019, 42 homes were covered by this provision. Habitat would be obligated in the event that one or more of the homeowners were unable to meet the principal payments when they become due. At June 30, 2019, the estimated value of the outstanding guarantees was $2,321,804. In the event of nonpayment by the homebuyer, these loans are collateralized by the homeowner's property. Habitat has experienced no losses from these liabilities and does not believe that a contingent liability should be presented on the statement of financial position.
